Doughboys Hit Lessay

By WES GALLAGHER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, July 15 (AP)—U. S. troops smashed to the outskirts of Lessay soon after noon today, battling in the suburbs of that western German anchor in Normandy, and at the opposite end of their flaming front to within little more than a mile of the key road junction of St. Lo.

The Germans fought back savagely against steady American pressure against both these end bastions of their road line strung across western Normandy. Other doughboys fought two miles from Periers, central stronghold on the Lessay-St. Lo road, after striking ahead four miles and straightening their lines in that sector.

Street fighting swirled this afternoonr in Lessay's suburbs, and the enemy defending St. Lo turned loose big field guns in the heaviest artillery duel of the five-day drive for that town, a front dispatch declared the Americans were within 2000 yards of St. Lo's outskirts.

British troops at the eastern end of the front recaptured hill —scene of bloody. See-saw fighting in the last week—north of Esquay and again struck into Maltot, four miles southwest of Caen, but there were no large-scale engegements in that sector, supreme headquarters said.

The worst flying weather since Invasion Day limited the powerful Allied air arm to less than 50 sorties up until this afternoon.

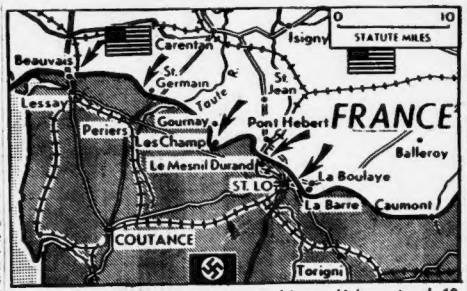
The Germans have poured 20 to 25 divisions into Normandy, it was disclosed, with 11 or 12 of them facing the Americans. German Army strength in the west now is estimated at 60 to 65 Divisions.

Three towns fell in the four mile southward drive from the marshes of Plessis toward Periers, closing in the American line menacing that middle stronghold in the largest singleday advance since Cherbourg's capture. Sixteen towns and villages on the American front have been seized in the last 24 hours.

The Germans fought desperately to hold their line on the lateral road running from Lessay 21 miles southeastward through Periers to St. Lo. A front dispatch said the enemy poured the toughest artillery fire yet encountered against one U. S. column nearing the Font-Hebert road north of St. Lo after a 600-yard advance to within 2000 yards of the city's outskirts.

Infantrymen fought yard by yard for the big road hub of St. Lo, and were closing in from positions at La Barre de Semilly, two miles to the east.

British troops have captured more than 7000 Germans and killed or wounded four times as many—28,000 to 30,000—since D-Day, a British staff officer at the front declared, as a lull persisted on the British-Canadian sector to the east.



FRANCE—Arrows locate American drives which captured 10 more French towns and gained up to three miles. Among towns captured were Beauvais and Les Champ. Today Yanks were fighting in outskirts of Le Mesnil Durand, 3½ miles northwest of St. Lo.

Reds Open New Drive

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, July 15 (AP)—The Germans announced today the Russians have launched a long-awaited offensive in southern Poland—extending to 500 miles a front which in the north challenges the last-ditch string of forts guarding the Suwalki district of East Prussia, now less than 20 miles ahead of the Red army.

The German high command said the Russians struck from northwest of Tarnopol, where they last were reported within 30 miles of strategic Lwow, and west of Luck, 120 miles southeast of Lublin, which guards the southeast approaches to Warsaw.

A drive from Luck would pose a southern flanking threat to Brest-Litovsk, fortress town scarred by two wars, which stands on the main line west to Warsaw and anchors the enemy's Bug river defenses.

"Some Russian penetrations were eliminated in counterthrusts," the Berlin radio said of the new offensive.

MOSCOW SILENT

Moscow, habitually silent on new operations until they are well developed, had not mentioned any new drive south of the Pripyat marshes.

The Russians kept up their break-neck pace through wavering defenses as they struck on in the Baltic states toward the fortified line guarding east Prussia. The British radio said in a roadcast beamed to Europe that the Germans had begun to dismount installations in the east Prussian fortress port of Konigsberg.

(CBS recorded a broadcast by London saying the Russians had begun shelling Grodno, old Polish fortress town guarding the approaches to southern East Prussia.)

Street barricades were being thrown up in Grodno, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk, keystones of the defense line, and the Germans were reported bent on a fight to the death in these cities.

Driving to within 16 miles of the Latvian border, the Red Army was said to have cut the highway leading southwest of Opochka to Sebezh, and approached the railway and highway linking the northern German anchor of Pskov with Daugavpils.

The Third White Russian Army kept up the pressure on Kaunas with a push that had carried it to within 18 miles of the main railway that connects East Prussia with the Baltic states.

At the southern end of the front, the Russians were approaching Brest-Litovsk from captured Pinsk, 100 miles to the east, and from the northeast, where a column last was reported 80 miles away.

U. S. General, 2 Colonels Killed

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 15 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Paul W. Newgarden, commander of the 10th Armored Division; two colonels, and at least two other persons were killed here last night when an Army plane crashed during a heavy storm.

Gen. Newgarden, Col. Renn Lawrence, commanding a combat unit, and the others had been en route from Ft. Knox, Ky., to Augusta, Ga., where a troop review was planned at Camp Gordon today to celebrate the second anniversary of Gen. Newgarden's command.

Guam Blasted For 11th Day

By VERN HAUGLAND

Associated Press War Editor

Radio Tokyo, anticipating a possible U. S. landing operation in the Marianas, reported today an 11th-day raid upon Guam by 85 American planes and an attack by two Liberators on Iwo Jima island in the Kazan or Volcano group, 750 miles south of American-occupied Saipan, and near-by Rota island with bombs and rockets Thursday —10th straight day of such attacks.

"The war situation does not allow a moment of optimism," said the Tokyo broadcaster.

Two bypassed Jap forces, meanwhile, attempted to join garrisons in northwestern New Guinea, one by flight, the other by desperate attack.

The assault was by forward elements of the 18th Imperial Army, seeking to blast a path westward for 45,000 survivors through the American coastal block at Aitape, British New Guinea.

There were some penetrations but in general the Americans held.

Along Dutch New Guinea's Maffin bay, 300 miles west of Aitape, Americans occupied Sawar airdrome without opposition. Enemy troops had fled to the jungle.

Japanese, vigorously renewing their assault on the Canton-Hankow rail key of Hengyang in southern Hunan, succeeded in breaking into the streets of the city but were annihilated, the Chinese high command announced today.

RUSSIA—Red army forces, fighting within 20 miles of East Prussia, today were closing in on (A) Grodno and Bialystok after capturing Skidel and Wolkowysk. Also taken were Opochka, 24 miles east of the Latvian border, and Druskeniki. Drive west of Pinsk continues.

U. S. Minesweeper Shells Boat Carrying Gen. Clark

ROME, July 15 (AP)—The U. S. Navy disclosed today that a United States minesweeper's accidental fire was responsible for the killing of one officer and one man and wounding of three others aboard a P-T boat which was carrying Lt. Gen. Clark and other Army officers to the Anzio beachhead Jan. 28.

An official announcement said an inquiry had established the P-T boat and its escort "entered the area while a 'red' alert was on" in anticipation of a Nazi raid and the craft had not been identified as friendly.

"The captain of the minesweeper, in reporting the incident, said the P-T boat and accompanying craft approached in attack formation at high speed," it added. "At the inquiry he was exonerated of any blame in connection with the incident."

An officer standing beside Gen. Clark and one other man of the board were killed and three others were wounded, according to Capt. John Beardwood, aide to Gen. Clark, now in Seattle.

Fifth Sweeps Within 3 1-2 Mi. of Leghorn

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME, July 15 (AP)—American troops have driven to within three and a half miles of the seaport of Leghorn, in the wake of suddenly melting German resistance, and have captured Chianni, 13 miles inland.

The most significant gains in the past two weeks of heavy fighting were made yesterday.

The French, meanwhile, pursued the enemy northward from Poggibonsi.

In a broad sweep, one American column passed Gnizzano, 23 miles due east of Leghorn, and occupied all the important heights covering the approach to the Arno river, 10 miles away.

Another American force captured Villamagna, 15 miles west of Poggibonsi, while still other U. S. units swept through Chianni and Belvedere, enemy strongholds guarding the Era valley toward the Arno valley.

In the coastal sector Gen. Clark's forces moved up three to five miles.

In an apparent effort to protect the withdrawal of other divisions which suffered heavy losses in recent fighting, the Nazi command sent the Third Panzer Grenadier Division back into the line on the Fifth Army front after a week's rest.

The possibility was seen the Germans plan to fall back on the Arno river.

RAF Hammers Paris Railroads

LONDON, July 15 (AP)—British Lancaster bombers hammered at railroads in the suburbs of Paris early today.

This was a climax to widespread night air assaults in which other heavies hit flying bomb installations in France and Mosquitos ripped into German positions in Normandy and objectives in Germany.

The Villeneuve-St. Gorges railroad yards on the southeastern outskirts of Paris gave the Lancasters their target today.

The U. S. Army Air Force announced yesterday's Liberator attack on targets in the Amiens resulted in no loss of bombers or escorting fighters.

Japs Execute B-29 Captives

NEW YORK, July 15 (INS)—A Japanese broadcast beamed to American forces in the Southwest Pacific suggested today that several American airmen captured by the Japanese, apparently following the first B-29 Superfortress raid on northern Kyushu last month, may have been executed by the Japanese or at least were being held for execution.

The American airmen, the broadcast said, had "parachuted, bailed out to meet with the same fate which was meted out to raiders of Tokyo some two years ago."

At the same time, the Japanese broadcast warned angrily:

"Any Allied airman who falls or bails out over Japan will be executed. This is the order of the day."

Federal Communications Commission monitors recorded the broadcast from the Japanese-operated Singapore radio and reported it to the Office of War Information.

Reception, they said, was poor so only a few excerpts from the Japanese spokesman's talk were intelligible. He was not identified. Monitors said he was introduced by a woman, believed by them to be one of the Singapore radio's regular announcers, who said merely:

"Here is a special talk."

They said they believed the speaker was "probably a Japanese" but that he had "something of a British accent." He had a tendency to be oratorical, it was said, which made transcription of the speech particularly difficult, especially where the speaker's voice dropped out or where strong atmospheric interference cut in.

More than four hours after the Singapore broadcast, FCC monitors had recorded no other Japanese statement from any source, either from a broadcast or a press transmission by the Domei agency, which was similar to the Singapore broadcast.

Lyman Has New M'Grath Clue

Investigation of the murder of 10-year-old Frances McGrath in Scituate took a new turn today as evidence unearthed by Commissioner of Corrections Arthur T. Lyman and his staff flushed out a new suspect in the case.

The commissioner, whose department has been co-operating with Scituate and state police since the discovery of the little girl's body, described the latest suspect as a "likely prospect" and said he already had interviewed him at some length.

It was understood attention was drawn to the suspect by a study of the voluminous records of offenders on file in the corrections department.

As the case took this unexpected turn, investigators continued their questioning of many Scituate girls, ranging from 12 to 18 years, reported to have been molested during the past two years.

State Police Lt. Michael Cullinane also was checking the story of a former Scituate girl, now a resident of western Massachusetts, who was alleged to have been attacked by another suspect in the case a year ago.

Meanwhile Jack Lopes, Scituate carpenter and worker in a Hingham shipyard, who discovered the little girl's body in Norwell June 16, was being held in $50,000 at Plymouth County Jail.

St. Swithin's Day Bodes Fair Sky

"There will be nice weather through Sunday."

That's as far as G. Harold Noyes, government meteorologist, would go—and very grudgingly, too—in spite of the fact this is St. Swithin's Day and virtually crammed with prophecy. The old rhyme goes:

"St. Swithin's Day, if thou dost rain,
"For 40 days it will remain.
"St. Swithin's Day, if thou be fair,
"For 40 days 'twill rain nae mair."

But the weather man would admit only that today indeed was St. Swithin's Day and a fine one, bringing promise of an enjoyable and somewhat warmer Sunday.

The Weather

MIAMI, Fla., July 15 (AP)—The weather bureau today reported a tropical storm 450 miles in the Atlantic due east of Melbourne, Fla., and advised naval forces to take precautions in the path of the blow.

The storm warning service said the disturbance, not of hurricane intensity, was moving northward parallel to the U. S. coast line, at 12 to 14 miles an hour, attended by 40 to 45 mile winds.

"Its movement will continue northward with further increase in intensity indicated during this afternoon and tonight" the bureau said. "It will probably curve slowly to the north-northeast later."

CHICAGO, July 15 (AP)—James Stanley Joyce, wealthy Chicago lumberman and a former husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce, left an estate of more than $5,000,000, it was disclosed in an inventory filed in probate court yesterday.

His entire estate, more than half of which he inherited from his mother, Mrs. Clotilde Gage Joyce, in December, 1941, goes to his 21-year-old niece; Mrs. Beatrice J. Richardson of Chicago. He died last January at the age of 58.

Hub Man Slain Chasing Bandit

Volunteering to chase an unidentified man who made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up the combination bank and real estate office of Edward L. Hopkins in West Broadway, South Boston, John Podbuny, 28, East Broadway, was shot to death today by the fleeing man.

He was taken to Carney Hospital where he died in a few hours.

The would-be holdup man, described as between 25 and 30, with blue eyes and medium complexion, and wearing a railroad worker's cap, escaped.

John Podbuny

The bandit entered the Hopkins office soon after 9 a. m. while Miss Marie F. Hogan, 22, of E st., the cashier, was alone in the place.

He seized her arm and demanded she hand over all the money.

She screamed and struggled to escape. The holdup man fled.

Podbuny, returning from the market district in his car to his father-in-law's fruit stand adjoining the Hopkins office, saw the man flee from the building with Miss Hogan following.

Shouting to her that he would catch the man, Podbuny followed in his car as the holdup man fled on foot along West Broadway.

As Podbuny neared his quarry, the man suddenly halted, drew a gun and fired directly at his pursuer.

Shot in the head, Podbuny lost control of the car, which crashed into a pole at Athens and F sts.

As the shot and crash of the car turned the neighborhood into confusion, the man made good his escape.

Miss Hogan, still hysterical, was taken to the South Boston station to give police the details of the attempted holdup.

Detroit Strikes Halt Bomber Production

DETROIT, July 15 (INS)—The Ford Willow Run bomber plant, producer of B-24 Liberator bombers, was shut down at noon today when 13,000 employes were sent home by the company after 200 crane operators left their jobs, curtailing production.

The Willow Run plant is the world's largest airplane factory and produces the majority of the Liberators for the air forces.

The plant employs approximately 30,000 workers in three shifts, six days a week. Company spokesmen said there was little likelihood that the second shift, due at 4:30 this afternoon, would report.

In the Ford dispute, both union and management accused each other of violating the contract.

Walter Quillica, president of Willow Run Local 50, who is attending the State CIO convention in Grand Rapids with leaders of other locals, charged the Ford Co. is instigating the strike through contract violations. As an example, he said, production workers are forced to sweep floors.

Wallace Backers Base Hopes on F. D. Letter

By WILLIAM THEIS

CHICAGO, July 15 (INS)—Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan arrived in Chicago today presumably with a key which may open the door to the party's first convention nomination battle since 1932—President Roosevelt's letter of "recommendation" on selection of his 1944 running mate.

The President's letter endorsing Vice-President Wallace for renomination in such a manner that the 1176 convention delegates next week will feel free to choose some other candidate was reliably understood to be addressed to Sen. Jackson of Indiana, the convention's permanent chairman.

If made public as expected soon after its receipt instead of being withheld until the convention meets Wednesday, the White House letter was seen as producing these results:

A smashing drive by Wallace supporters to "cash in" as fully as possible on whatever kind words Mr. Roosevelt has for the incumbent Vice-President. Sen. Guffey of Pennsylvania, ready to throw a majority of his state's 72 votes to the Iowan whom he also supported in 1940, was en route to Chicago to lead the Wallace forces.

BARKLEY CONTENDER

A rush by the sponsors of other vice-presidential aspirants to place their men at the post. In this field Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky appeared to have the greatest strength among leaders who feel Wallace must be dropped to assure party unity—especially in the revolt-minded South.

TRUMAN MENTIONED

Close behind Barkley in the top bracket of possibilities were Sen. Truman of Missouri, said to be favored by Chairman Hannegan, House Speaker Rayburn of Texas and War Mobilizer Byrnes of South Carolina.

Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, convention keynoter, and Gov. Melville Broughton of North Carolina appeared in the forefront of a secondary list which embraced a dozen leaders mentioned.

Supporters of Sen. Byrd of Virginia, also considered as a vice-presidential possibility, will open a Byrd headquarters in Chicago next Monday.

At the same time it was learned Wallace now plans to come to Chicago Monday. The vice-president is chairman of the Iowa delegation to the Democratic convention.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Hotel Vendome.

The couple plan to make their home in West Newton after a two-weeks honeymoon in Maine.

Argentine Quints Year Old Today

BUENOS AIRES, July 15 (AP)—Argentina's famed Diligenti quintuplets enjoyed their first birthday anniversary today, apparently in perfect health and full of zest for life.

Endowed with unusual vitality for babies of multiple birth, the two boys and three girls so far have undergone no afflictions except common colds and teething pains.

Franco, Jr., strongest and most prankish of the lot, has shown the greatest physical development, having now a height of 32 inches and a weight of 26 pounds.

Maria Fernanda matches him in weight but is about two inches shorter. She is the same height as the others—Maria Cristina, Maria Esther and Carlos Alberto, who weigh about 23 pounds each.

Council Favors More 'Italy for the Italians'

ROME, July 15 (AP)—The Allied Advisory Council on Italy at its first meeting in Rome recommended today that the Allied Control Commission turn over another slice of Italy to the Italian government from military rule.

The transfer, expected to be made within a week, would extend the government's jurisdiction as far as Latium below Rome. Naples will remain under Allied administration, it is understood, because of the importance of its port.

Mead Leads Fight To Ban Poll Tax

WASHINGTON, July 15 (INS)—Sen. Mead (D.), of New York, has been chosen to lead a fight for Democratic platform planks calling for abolition of the poll tax and for a permanent fair employment practices committee.

The stage for a bitter clash between northern and southern Democrats thus was set, with southerners planning a counter-attack calling for a "white supremacy" plank in the platform.

The Republican platform called for abolition of the poll tax by constitutional amendment—while Mead has led a fight to abolish it by law—but the Republicans flatly called for a permanent fair employment practices committee.

Dewey Plans Quiet Week-End on Farm

By LEO W. O'BRIEN

PAWLING, N. Y., July 15 (INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey relaxed on his farm today, waiting for the Democratic national convention to join the campaign issue by going through the formality of nominating President Roosevelt to serve 16 years in the White House.

The Governor remained in virtual seluion with his wife and two boys, resting and going over material for his discussions at St. Louis, Aug. 2 and 3, with the Republican Governors of 25 other states.

James C. Hagerty, executive assistant, said the Governor planned to see no visitors, except neighbors, prior to his return to Albany late tomorrow or early Monday.

Gov. Dewey is expected to resume his conferences next week with Republican congressional candidates. So far, he has conferred with delegations from Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut, each of which assured him he would carry their respective states in November.

The Governor plans to talk with close to 150 members of or candidates for Congress before the end of the summer.

There is a possibility he will make a series of rear platform appearances during his trip to St. Louis.

Britain to Pray For Fair Weather

LONDON, July 15 (INS)—All Britain will join tomorrow in a national day of prayer for good weather to aid the Allied armies in France.

The worst June and July weather in 12 years so far has continued to handicap the Allied operations and to aid the Nazis.

Competent forces admit that a sustained period of good weather is needed to permit Gen. Montgomery to exploit fully his air forces in a grand thrust to Paris.

MRS. MARION YOUNGCLAUS OF CAMBRIDGE
Fought Off Attacker in Bedroom

Wife's Cries Foil Attacker

Aroused from her sleep by the bold advances of a stranger, Mrs. Marion Youngclauss, 22, of River st., Cambridge, today fought off an attacker in her bedroom until her husband came to her aid.

The husband, Richard Youngclaus, told police that the intruder entered their home through a bathroom window and went to the wife's bedroom.

A. W. Richards

Mrs. Youngclaus was aroused by the stranger as he climbed into the bed and her screams brought her husband rushing to her aid.

As Youngclaus entered the bedroom, the stranger leaped from the bed and dashed through the house, escaping through another open window. Youngclaus followed him into the street and gave chase.

The ensuing chase led only a few doors to another dwelling, where Youngclaus, the door shut in his face, called on Sgt. Charles Holt for help.

The pair searched the house and found Allen W. Richards, 40, in his second-floor apartment. The latter was taken to police headquarters and booked on charges of breaking and entering in the night time and attempted assault.

In East Cambridge court Richards pleaded not guilty and was held in $1500 by Judge Arthur P. Stone for hearing next Tuesday.

Sgt. J. Harry McCaffrey, working on his first case since his promotion had been verified after a lengthy court battle, said that both Youngclaus and his wife identified Richards as the intruder when they were brought to headquarters.

Police said Mrs. Youngclaus informed them that the man under arrest recently had been treated at the State Hospital at Mattapan. Investigation of the case was continued.

Investigation of the case was continued prior to the arraignment of Richards in East Cambridge court.

Walkout Ties Chrysler Plant

DETROIT, July 15 (INS)—Because one of their members was disciplined, 284 assembly line employes at the Detroit tank arsenal walked out on strike this morning, halting tank production and forcing 750 into idleness, according to a Chrysler Corp. spokesman.

"The tank assembly at the Detroit tank arsenal stopped this morning at 9:30 a. m.," the spokesman announced, "when the men struck because one of their members was disciplined for apparently having tried to incite a race riot earlier in the week."

The worker, Stanley Novak, member of UAW-CIO Local 833, allegedly formed a noose out of a 30-foot long, half-inch rope and threw it over an overhead beam when he heard a rumor that a Negro had put his arm around a white woman, according to the company statement.

JEANETTE MacDONALD
Singing Star Beaten Up

Boy, 14, Beats Film Actress

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., July 15 (AP)—Actress Jeanette MacDonald received a black and swollen eye and scratches and cuts on her face in an encounter with a prowler in her El Encanto Hotel cottage last night. Police arrested a 14-year-old bellboy as her assailant and charged him with battery.

Miss MacDonald told police she was awakened by the slamming of a door, got out of bed to investigate and was confronted by a boy holding a blanket toward her. She kicked him and struggled with him, she said, and he struck her in the right eye. She screamed and her assailant ran.

Chief of Police L. R. Greeson said the boy declared he was hunting a souvenir in the actress' cottage, that he took a handkerchief and fled when she turned a light on.

Miss MacDonald, the wife of Actor Gene Raymond, who is in the Army, is studying voice here with Mme. Lotte Lehmann.

Weymouth Official Held in Town Theft

George E. Curtin, 45-year-old Weymouth town treasurer, 10 years in office, widely respected and known as a man of exemplary habits, was charged today with stealing $25,000 of town funds.

The development had a bombshell effect on South Shore residents and other town officials, including police.

Curtin, it was announced by Police Chief Edward Butler, walked into the police station yesterday and quietly confessed he had taken the money. Butler quoted him as saying:

"I used it to bet on the horses and dogs."

No one in Weymouth knew Curtin ever placed a wager of any kind, police said.

Curtin appeared in Quincy court today with his wife, Rita. He pleaded innocent before Judge Gertrude Halloran. She set bail at $5000 and held him for Norfolk County grand jury's September session. The bail was provided.

Curtin is the father of four children. The family, all members of which are held in esteem by townspeople, live in a comfortable home in Hawthorne st., East Weymouth.

The board of selectmen, whose members were startled by the alleged confession, will meet Monday night to consider their course.

Curtin's books were given a state audit last month, but the auditors found no evidence of a shortage.

Chief Butler made a sudden trip out of town today, in connection with the case. It was reported he wanted to contact the channels through which the town treasurer lost the money.

Circus Leaves For Florida

HARTFORD, Ct., July 15 (AP)—Ringling Brothers' red and yellow circus train, in three long sections, pulled out of Hartford this morning, bound for winter quarters in Sarasota, Fla., and rehabilitation from the disastrous fire of July 6.

Spokesmen for the circus said the show would be reconditioned and sent back on the road.

Remnants of the main tent, in the flaming ruins of which 162 persons lost their lives, were left behind for the investigation still in progress.

Swampscott Hotel Raided

Police drove an ancient ambulance up to the front door of Hotel Preston in Swampscott today and startled its guests by raiding the Surf Room, where they seized six slot machines, then arrested the manager, George W. Durkin, 37.

The machines were carried out to the ambulance and Durkin was taken to the police station, where he was charged with operating a lottery.

Well pursed guests, including members of the North Shore social set and affluent vacationers from many parts of the country, stood aghast as Chief James Kennedy and three patrolmen strode into the exclusive hostelry.

Clerk Joseph L. Barry of Lynn court hastened to the police station and set bail at $500, which the hotel manager raised. He will appear in court Monday.

Police said they had received complaints the slot machines drew patrons five and six deep on Saturday nights.

Boston American, July 15—

Curtis Hub Total Up As Recount Nears

Recount of the Republican vote for state treasurer in seven Boston wards and in many cities and towns throughout the state will begin next week with Laurence Curtis, the petitioner, not even certain that he lost to former State Treasurer Fred J. Burrell of Medford.

The official State-wide totals for the two candidates will not be known until early next week, but already official Boston figures show that Curtis' Boston plurality was 198 votes greater than first reported. This change would shave Burrell's winning margin of 288 votes to less than 100.

It was pointed out that should the official vote finally show Curtis a winner, he could not halt the recount except with approval of Burrell.

Burrell announced he had retained Charles H. McGlue, former Democratic State committee chairman, to represent him as counsel at recount proceedings.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook urged local officials to begin retabulations at once so that plenty of time will be reserved to print ballots for soldiers

The Democratic State Committee voted unanimously to choose Mrs. Margaret M. O'Riordan, Democratic national committeewoman, as the party candidate for Secretary of State.

First Hub Marine to Enlist After Pearl Harbor, Home

The first Boston youth to enlist in the Marine Corps after the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, Cpl. William T. Campbell came back home again today for the first time in two and one-half years, during which he saw bloody combat with the First Marine Division in the Pacific.

His home is in Norwell st., Dorchester.

But, even in his joy over the homecoming, his thoughts were straying to Australia and to Cissy Hirsh, whom he met in Brisbane while resting from the rigors of the Guadalcanal campaign.

He tried hard to bring her home with him as his bride but it was impossible to make the necessary arrangements before his 30-day furlough started.

After reaching the West Coast he came east by a plane as far as Harrisburg, Pa., and completed the journey to Boston by train. Tonight his family and friends are staging an outdoor welcome home party for him.

The young corporal has two other brothers in the armed forces, John, a paratrooper in Italy, and Jim, who is stationed with the Army in Georgia.

He had sent home many souvenirs, including a Jap battle flag, and brought more with him. But he's proudest of his Pacific campaign ribbon, studded with stars representing seven major actions, and the ribbon of the Presidential citation, which was conferred on the entire division.

"Our wounded must not lie untended, nor can we let them suffer for lack of all the nursing and care it is within our capacities to give. As casualties grow, so must those who tend our wounded and guard our safety at home grow in number. Our country must not want for nurses, neither on the beachheads nor on the home front."

What about travel conditions?

Travel conditions are different than they were in pre-war days

Let's look at the facts:

Throughout the land, tens of thousands of men and women of our armed forces are now traveling across the country by rail.

The families of our fighting troops are taking trips to "see the boys" before they shove off for overseas.

Executives and war workers of essential industries are traveling between various plants on important missions.

It all adds up to this: More passengers than ever before are crowding the trains on the Santa Fe.

We are required to handle this unprecedented volume of passenger traffic with practically the same equipment we had in 1941. Building new passenger equipment has not been permitted since Pearl Harbor.

Our government has issued instructions to the railroads under Interstate Commerce Commission Service Order No. 213, effective 12:01 am June 27, to displace or remove any passenger in any accommodation upon any train, in order to provide necessary space for sick or wounded service personnel, and their attendants, transported pursuant to a medical certificate. We hope there will be little of this.

We of the Santa Fe will do our best to carry all the passengers we can, as quickly and comfortably as we can, but we ask this before you plan a trip this summer:

Unless your trip is essential, can't you put it off until we have a little better opportunity to carry you in the traditional Santa Fe manner?

Auto Industry Cold To Conversion Plan

By WATSON FENIMORE

WASHINGTON, July 15 (INS)—The automobile industry threw down a proferred War Production Board "blue order" plan for reconversion to passenger car making today, bluntly telling the WPB that it is too busy with war work to consider the program.

Called to Washington to discuss preliminary steps for resumption of passenger car making, representatives of the nation's nine automobile manufacturers declared that in view of their absorption in war contracts it would be pointless to try to settle on any proposed future rate of passenger car production, even for planning purposes only.

STICK TO '42 MODELS

They added that therefore it was of no use to consider the so-called blue order plan under which the industry would place orders now for materials and components for delivery at some future date.

They received WPB permission to work on new model cars for production after the defeat of Germany, but indicated they would stick to 1942 models because war work leaves little time or manpower for new designs.

The industry representatives were asked to give consideration to rates of production when they return home "in the light of subsequent developments in the war."

WILSON'S WARNING

Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice-chairman, praised the automobile makers for their absorption in war work but warned that some plan must be evolved for reconversion.

Meanwhile, the Office of Defense Transportation notified its district offices not to accept new applications for light motor trucks, because the WPB has denied permission for resumption of light truck production in the first quarter of 1945.

Crash Gives Clue In Gas Thefts

Authorities today predicted the solution of a long series of gasoline thefts from parked automobiles, as the aftermath of a collision of two automobiles at Beacon and Berkeley sts., Back Bay.

The break came when an unusually large amount of gasoline, flowing from punctured cans, spilled over the street after the crash.

While firemen washed down the street to prevent fire, police investigating the unusual leakage of gasoline, found four five-gallon cans of gasoline, a length of rubber hose and a funnel hidden in the back of one car. The driver was held on a charge of suspicion of larceny of gasoline.

Gen. Roosevelt Final Rites Held

FOURTH DIVISION CEMETERY, France, July 15 (AP)—Machine guns rattled in the distance and anti-aircraft fire burst in faraway clouds as military funeral services were held in the Normandy twilight for Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

The general's son, Quentin, watched as his father's body was lowered in the French soil on which he had fought in two wars. Quentin is a captain in the "Fighting First" division, his father's favorite.

Beside the grave were six generals, including Lt. Gen Bradley.

Services were conducted by Col. Peter C. Schroeder, First Army chaplain and former pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah, Flushing, N. Y., and Lt. Col. James A. Bryant, Fourth Division chaplain.

Take 10 Dead From Fort Wreck

RANGELEY, Me., July 15—U. S. soldiers and Maine guides today battled their way through heavy undergrowth with the bodies of 10 airmen, the crew of a Flying Fortress which crashed near Deer mountain in last Tuesday's electrical storm.

The long trek will take at least a day, it was stated.

A searching party headed by Maj. Norman Vaughan of Hamilton, Mass., stationed at Presque Isle air base, reached the crash scene after being guided by a Maine Forestry Dept. plane that hovered in the air overhead.

Broken bodies were found over a wide area.

An Army spokesman said the plane presumably lost its bearings in the violent storm which swept the Rangeley Lakes district.

"Apparently the left wing dipped," he said, "and clipped the tree tops for 75 yards. Trees were sheared off in the vicinity. Then it apparently struck the ground and somersaulted over and over. There were evidences of violent explosions and scattered fires, but the fires were put out by the rainstorm. The plane cut a path through the woods about 40 feet wide and 150 yards long."

A pair of baby shoes was found beside one body.

Let's Fight! Is Cry Of Lads in Infantry

By HUCK FINNEGAN

INFANTRY UNIT, Northern Ireland—Infantrymen are durable. For example, there's the group of dog-faces who, after completing a 25-mile hike with packs, walked four miles to a dance, terpsichored the night, turned around and walked the four miles home without breathing heavily.

Infantrymen are proud. "The air corps can have the glamour," they say, "but they can't win battles alone. That was proved at Madrid, Stalingrad and Cassino. The defenders come up out of the rubble and fight on. The infantrymen have to go in and dig 'em out. Thus, the invasion of France."

Infantrymen are versatile. Whereas in the last war a foot soldier's duties consisted mainly of shooting a rifle, using the bayonet and tossing an occasional grenade, the dog-face of this war must excel in the use of rifle (600 yards), carbine (300 yards), pistol, knife and bayonet, rifle grenade, machine gun, bazooka (anti-tank weapon), 60 mm. mortar, enemy machine gun, chemical warfare, bangalore torpedo, first aid, camouflage, reading of map and compass.

In addition, the infantry works with artillery and tanks. "Tanks can't hold ground. Infantry must go in and quiet enemy anti-tank guns."

INVADED ICELAND

This infantry unit is the one that invaded Iceland in the dim and distant past, some of the men spending two full years there. It was expendable at the time, and fully expected to come off the ships fighting.

Instead of fighting Germans, however, it fought the climate, labored to erect habitations and ranted at its isolation as action started, first at Guadalcanal, then North Africa. "We were the first U. S. unit overseas," it complains. "We have a right to fight."

Now it is ranting because it wasn't picked to spearhead the invasion of western Europe. "What

Cpl. Anthony Uglietto, Cambridge

Lt. Rocco J. Barbuto, Brookline

are we training for?" they shout. "What are we going to tell our kids when we get back home?" (Don't be impatient, men. You may have plenty to tell.)

MOSTLY YOUNGSTERS

The unit is made up mostly of mid-Westerners. But like every outfit in the Army it has its share of Bay Staters, most of them youngsters only a year or two out of high school. Boys, like:

PFC Emidio Di Pietro, 49 Oakland st., Malden. Parents—Emilio and Agata. Girl friend: Loretta Morino, 87 Highland ave., Malden.

Emidio is 21, has been overseas almost a year. He played the drum in Malden High's band, helped Bob Murphy get out the Malden News before induction.

Lt. Rocco J. Barbuto, 9 Hurd rd., Brookline. Wife: the former Dorothea J. Flynn. There is a Rocco, Jr., whom the 22-year-old officer has never seen. He used to live on Litchfield st., Brighton, and graduated from Brighton High in '38. Worked for the Town Oil near Riverdale st., Barry's Corner.

"I met T-Sgt. Bob McCormick (Coolidge rd., Allston) in Belfast recently," said Rocco, and added that Harold Chandler, a Brighton buddy of his, was killed in Sicily without ever seeing his baby; that John McCormick, Bob's brother, Paul LeBlanc and Warren Donovan, other pre-war pals, had also been killed.

He has a brother Pat with the field artillery in Mississippi.

CAMBRIDGE LAD

Corp. Anthony Uglietto, 71 Porter st., Cambridge. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Petro Uglietto. Tony just celebrated his 21st birthday. He used to bake for Romas in Somerville, is a company cook here. He has a brother Cosmo, who's with the mechanized cavalry in England. Tony liked to dance at the Raymor and State ballrooms, hopes to try it again soon.

PFC Thomas J. Robinson, 20, of 78 Wilbur st., Everett. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Michael Robinson. Tom is a strapping six-footer who's in fine physical trim now, after shedding 20 pounds. He graduated from Everett High and got in a year and a half at Boston College before the Army beckoned. Tom planned to study law before the war, hasn't changed his mind.

ANOTHER GRIDDER

PFC Robert H. Montemorra, 20, of 129 Clarence st., Everett. Parents: Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Montemorra. Girl friend: Norma Saccardo, 113 Clarence st., Everett.

Bob is a 200-pounder, who played some football for Everett High in '38, graduated in '41, played sandlot football for the Everett Wings.

"Robinson played center for St Theresa's," said chubby Bob. "We had plenty of battles." Bob worked in H. K. Porter's forge plant. He has a brother Anthony, Jr., in the air corps in South Carolina.

Hebrew Bakers Ban Sunday Work

Seeking to conserve manpower and transportation equipment, the Greater Boston Hebrew Wholsale Bakers Ass'n will suspend baking and sales on Sundays effective tomorrow, M. R. Colgan, ODT district manager, announced today.

Under the plan drafted at a conference of labor and management, an estimated 100,000 truck miles will be saved, Colgan said. The industry also voluntarily agreed to more rigid adherence to existing ODT driving restrictions, he added.

Colgan, lauding the industry's program, urged the public to cooperate with the bakers by purchasing their bakery needs on Saturdays for the following day's consumption.

Mme. Chiang Is Guest of Rio

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 15 (AP)—Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of China's Generalissimo, who arrived here this week for a three months' rest, has taken up residence on the tiny island of Brocolo in Rio de Janeiro bay.

The island once was the home of a Brazilian multi-millionaire. It was purchased by the municipality of Rio de Janeiro recently for use as a civic garden.

(A Chungking dispatch said China's First Lady suffered nervous exhaustion, insomnia and chronic urticaria—an inflammation of the skin—and went to Brazil to avoid the intense summer heat of China.)

Army Tent Order Hits Textiles

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The Army has put in such a terrific demand for tents that War Production Board officials are in knots. They say that as of now the textile mills can meet only 50 per cent of the requirements.

They say this, too: They may not even be able to fill the full order for tents by cutting into other lines.

So far they have ordered 8 per cent of the yarn intended for tire cords diverted to manufacturing duck.

MAY BE FEWER TIRES

Very shortly they will cut into upholstery and corduroy manufacturing. They may decide to cut manufacture of denim for work clothes.

And they may decide to dip further into the cord tire field. This would mean fewer new tires.

The Navy and Maritime Commission also need duck.

Here are some of the reasons:

In the South Pacific mildew is destructive of tenting. In the island-hopping campaign of the Pacific, tents are left behind on the seized islands as bases of further operations.

GIVEN TO HOMELESS

In Italy, because of wide destruction of towns and civilian dwellings, the Army commanders turned over large supplies of tents to homeless people. The same will be true in the wake of invasion of western Europe.

Newspapers Hailed For War Loan Aid

Accomplishments of Hearst newspapers in New York and Pittsburgh toward making successful the Fifth War Loan campaign drew acclamation in both cities. Following are some of the messages sent to William Randolph Hearst:

June 30, 1944.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst,
Wyntoon, McCloud, Cal.
Dear Mr. Hearst:

Many favorable employe reactions have been received today as a result of the V-Army Fifth War Loan show arranged by the New York Evening Journal-American at the General Motors Corp., in Harrison, N. J. I am sure you will be glad to know that team captains throughout the plant report increased bond sales as a direct result.

We want to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the rally's success.

Very truly yours,
W. E. HAMILTON
Supervisor employe service Hyatt Bearings Division, General Motors Corp., Harrison, N. J.

July 8, 1944.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst,
Wyntoon, California:

May I congratulate you and your newspapers for the splendid Victory Army campaign which has just concluded. The Blue network and its affiliated stations which co-operated with the New York Journal-American and your other newspapers during the Fifth War Loan drive is more than gratified with the results of this joint radio-newspaper bond selling effort.

The seventeen programs dedicated to the Victory Army which we broadcast were based on great moments in our nation's history, and public reaction indicates these programs played an important part in selling bonds to back the invasion.

MARK WOODS,
President, Blue Network.

New York, July 8, 1944.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst,
Wyntoon, California:

My heartiest congratulations to your newspapers for the splendid Victory Army campaign during the Fifth War Loan drive.

Through the wide publicity given the Victory Army by the New York Journal-American and the seventeen V-Army programs broadcast coast-to-coast by the Blue network, I am sure that millions were encouraged to join the home front forces backing the attack.

CHARLES C. BARRY,
Eastern Program Director,
The Blue Network.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 12, 1944.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst,
Wyntoon, McCloud, Cal.:

Please accept sincere thanks for part your Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph played in making Fifth War Loan campaign a success in western Pennsylvania.

The color cartoons, editorials and feature stories supplementing regular news coverage had a tremendous effect in our entire area.

From the start of campaign until overall quota was reached, the co-operation of Sun-Telegraph was outstanding, and it is doing the same kind of job in helping us bring the lagging individual bond sales into line now.

Flier 'Snapped' Japan, Gets DFC

HEADQUARTERS U. S. 14TH AIR FORCE IN CHINA, July 15 (AP) — After several months' secrecy, it was disclosed today Capt. Winfree A. Sordelett, a 24-year-old Virginian flying an unarmed P-38 reconnaissance plane, photographed areas of Japan on Oct. 31, 1943, and returned to China with precious film and weather data.

This probably was the first American photo reconnaissance made of the Japanese main islands, and certainly the first from China.

The former postoffice clerk from Hopewell, Va., won the Distinguished Flying Cross for the 2200-mile round trip across the East China sea, but the citation was not disclosed until today.

Hinckley in High Conversion Post

Hinckley has resigned as vice president of the Sperry Corp. to accept the new position.

All Dolled Up

SPOKANE, Wash., July 15 (AP)—A solution to the mystery of missing mail sacks sent to the armed forces overseas is given by John D. Hardy of Washington, D. C., general superintendent of the railway mail service.

He knows they have been used for tents and sandbagging, but adds:

"I figure that in North Africa and the South Pacific some of the natives have turned them into dresses."

Super Highway For Hub Urged

A mighty artery running north to south straight through Boston was proposed as the logical way to solve Boston's pressing traffic problems.

The proponent was Joseph C. Cressy Massachusetts Department of Public Works, speaker at the second New England Traffic Conference at M. I. T.

"A central main highway is the answer to the city's traffic problems," Cressy told his listeners. He made no estimate of the cost.

He conceded it would be a tremendous undertaking but one of great potential benefits. He suggested the artery should have a daily capacity of 60,000 automobiles to siphon off at least half of the 120,000 machines that now flow through the city each day from four northerly approaches.

ATTENTION!
ALL HOME CANNERS!

If we all pitch in, 1944 will see the greatest food production in our history.

But that will require your help.

It's up to you to: 1. grow every ounce of food you possibly can; 2. use all the food you grow; 3. can your food by the proper and safe methods.

Every ounce of home-canned food is urgently needed. Your Government begs you not only to match what you did last year but, if possible, to better your 1943 record.

Put up fruits and tomatoes by the boiling-water bath method—a safe and satisfactory method for these foods.

But before you begin your 1944 canning of all other vegetables, Good Housekeeping wants to tell you how to avoid a danger that may occur in home-canned food—a danger recognized by many authorities, including the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

That danger is botulinus food poisoning!

Botulinus poisoning comes from bacteria that live in the soil and cling to vegetables. It is rare—but it isn't confined to just a few parts of the country, as some people think.

Botulinus germs may be on the food you can. They must me destroyed. Whenever these bacteria are present in the food and are not destroyed during the canning process, they gradually produce a toxin which is poisonous.

It takes hotter-than-boiling heat to kill botulinus germs. Neither hot-water bath nor open-kettle canning provides enough heat to destroy them. That is why we advise: the only safe way to can low-acid vegetables — which means all vegetables except tomatoes—is by the correct use of a pressure cooker!

If you don't already own a pressure cooker, you'll be glad to know that the Government is allowing the manufacture of 400,000 new cookers for sale this summer, without priorities.

If you can't buy a pressure cooker, borrow your neighbor's . . . or perhaps you'll find one available through a community canning group. If not, form your own community group, and buy one. To be safe, don't can low-acid vegetables any other way.

We take this opportunity to issue two further warnings: 1. Oven canning is dangerous. It has caused many serious accidents to persons and to property. Shun it! 2. All home-canned foods should be examined carefully when opened. If there is evidence of spoilage, the food should not be used. NEVER TASTE to discover spoilage.*

By all means, put up every ounce of surplus food you possibly can. Our armed forces and the hungry nations of the earth need the benefits of our abundance.

However, the meeting didn't go off as smoothly as planned, as the youngsters, who never, never misbehave at home, acted like little hellions and almost rioted despite anguished shrieks of their maternal parents.

Belated Anxiety for Our Ally, China

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT expressed his "anxiety" at a recent press conference over the fact that the war in China is not going at all well.

The Chinese have been unable to halt the enemy's advances, he said, with the result that the Japanese now hold the greater part of Southeastern China, including the strategic coastal area.

The President has come to this conclusion belatedly.

If China had been given during the last year the flow and quantity of supplies she has constantly appealed for, the Chinese would not now be in their present desperate straits.

As it is, China must fight with what she has —which is pathetically and perhaps tragically TOO LITTLE.

General Shang Chen, head of the Chinese Military Mission in the United States, has been reminding us all along that the alternative to adequate help for China was a considerably prolonged war in Asia.

It is a dubious question whether we any longer have much of a choice in the matter.

The Chinese are the weakest they have been in their seven years of bloody fighting.

The Japanese in China are the strongest they have been.

The Japanese force in China now, says General Shang, is the MIGHTIEST FORCE EVER THROWN AGAINST THE CHINESE.

However, those things which it is not yet too late to do for China should be done NOW.

ONE OF THE THINGS that may still be done in time, according to high Chinese authorities, is ENLARGEMENT OF THE FLEET OF TRANSPORT PLANES IN CHINA.

Big transport planes, operating from bases in India, have given China about all the help she has had from America, and are principally responsible for keeping her in the war thus far.

MORE big transport planes would get MORE supplies into China, and keep her in the war longer.

Enough big transport planes would WIN the war in China.

Why do we not send China MORE big transport planes, in response to her appeal?

Why, indeed, do we not send her ENOUGH big transport planes, to protect OUR OWN VITAL INTERESTS?

Mere belated recognition of the situation is not enough. Action to FIT the recognition is what is vitally needed.

De Gaulle Gains His End

GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE, head of the French Committee of National Liberation, has gone home and has apparently accomplished his mission in the United States.

De Gaulle has been recognized as the "de facto" authority in France, which means he is the ACTUAL authority there.

The pattern for what De Gaulle intends in France is clearly seen in what he accomplished in Algiers. His regime in Algiers is strikingly LIKE that of Communist Russia. It has the approval and formal recognition of Communist Russia.

Frenchmen will have no more freedom under De Gaulle than the Russian people have under their Communist regime.

In fact, it is perfectly clear that De Gaulle has been not only following the Russian pattern of dictatorship, but has been an actual instrument of Communist Russian mission and purpose.

In the light of these facts, it is not LIBERATION which is in prospect for France—although that is what Americans are supposedly fighting and dying for.

WASHINGTON, July 15—Things run in deadly parallels here in Washington.

President Roosevelt disclosed that his conscience had commanded him to run again for President—and the OPA announced that price control had been extended to horseradish!

As was fitting, the Presidential announcement came first. The OPA, always the soul of delicacy, waited a couple of days before putting the ceiling on horseradish.

The OPA explained it had taken this timely action to protect processors. Here again we seem to have a sort of parallel. Many Republicans have asserted that—in their opinion—Mr. Roosevelt's explanation of why he consented to go on being President was over-processed.

TWO OF the quietest spots in town this week are the Democratic and Republican national headquarters.

The deserted village atmosphere at Democratic headquarters is easily explained. All but a few stand-ins have been moved to Chicago for the convention. The normal complement of workers is in excess of 50. Yesterday there were only eight on deck—and they coudn't find enough to occupy them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, one of the few left, said her principal job lately has been to thank embryo songwriters who come in with campaign songs. According to Mrs. Wilson, there seems to be a deep-seated conviction among amateur tunesmiths that the Democrats can't win without a theme song.

The word "victory," she said, seems to run through most of the offerings.

Among titles are: "Victory With FDR." "Roosevelt Victory March." "To Victory With Roosevelt." And for a change: "Here We Come!"

★ ★ ★

REPUBLICAN headquarters is quiet because James P. Selvage, the head publicity man, has quit and his successor has not yet been appointed. I was told that the fellow most frequently mentioned for the post is Ray Mayer, of Buffalo.

Said Lee Chesley, of the publicity staff:

"We are doing hardly anything. So I think we should all ask for a raise."

WOULD ANYBODY in the joint care for an omen, or perhaps a nice portent, or augury? I have one I am willing to sell, or rent, cheap.

It might come in handy for a Republican. All bids should be sealed and deposited—not later than July 19—in the trunk of the second hollow tree going west.

This is the omen:

After President Roosevelt made the startling disclosure that his hat is in the ring, the doors of his sanctum were unbolted and the reporters dashed for phones.

In the stampede, a journalist was joggled up against the President's desk, which, as usual, was covered with knickknacks. One of the gewgaws was swept to the floor.

Bert J. Perkins of the Fairchild Publications stooped to pick it up. He discovered it was a porcelain miniature of a high silk hat.

Then he made a second discovery. The fall had chipped the hat's brim.

You know—hat in ring! Hat chipped!

All right—and the same to you, too!

SINCE THE RECESS of Congress, the Senate and House restaurants have been closed. As a result, most of the Capitol employes still on the job patronize a soda fountain down the street from the Old House Office Building.

The customers learned one lesson in a hurry: Not to voice pro-Republican sentiments within hearing of the manager or help. It seems they are all rabid Democrats.

One playful patron said he wanted a "Dewey milk shake" because "I had a Roosevelt milk shake yesterday and it was lousy." He got the cold shoulder. Soon he began yelling for his order, whereupon the manager who has talked nothing else for months—snarled:

"We don't talk politics in here!"

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: The inability to love and remain loyal to one man for a long period reveals a woman is emotionally immature. So state those who should know . . . The biggest deal for the sale of a single piece of property in California was recently concluded. This was the sale of San Francisco's world-famous St. Francis Hotel to Benjamin Swig of Boston for five million dollars. That's quite a price. However, the property at No. 1 Wall st., New York City, which is on a site 180 by 110, is assessed at $10,250,000 without improvements.

"Grand Hotel" probably inspired "Weekend at the Waldorf" for in that, you remember, Joan Crawford played the public stenographer for whom Wally Beery fell. However, the new script has many innovations and is not, according to M-G-M, a remake with a new title. Mrs. Lucius Boomer and Elsa Maxwell are the technical advisors.

It wears you down, and when you go home nights after a day of it, and you take your tub bath with the epsom salts in it to soak out some of the soreness you feel all over—but particularly in your back and feet—you fall into bed and hope that morning will be long delayed.

And if you've been doing a routine that involves strenuous exercise of the arms and upper torso, then you notice it right at the waistline.

When you're in practice, of course, you don't notice it as much, but if you're resuming dance activities after a layoff of a few weeks or months, during which you've been doing just the dramatic part of the script—brother, that's when you wonder if you need a change of oil and a lubricating job.

But ask any dancer who makes a living out of it every day of the year—it's still possible to get dead tired at it, no matter how much you stay in practice.

If you think I'm maybe talking through my hat, let me explain. Those dance numbers that float by in a minute or two on the screen aren't done so simply. They're rehearsed, painstakingly and down to the last detail for weeks. Eight hours a day. And then they take upward of a week in the filming.

Those of us dancing in "Tonight and Every Night" will have spent five solid months making the picture that will roll by in perhaps two hours on the screen.

HOLLYWOOD, July 15—Joan Blondell is now playing the role of Aunt Cissy in "A Tree Grows In Brooklyn". You know Aunt Cissy, the character who keeps on marrying men without ever bothering about divorce.

Joan Blondell

And you also know the Hays office. This can be done in a novel but not on the screen. It's cleaned up in this fashion: Aunt Cissy hasn't heard from the last husband for a long enough time to make it legal to take the next husband. Oh that Hays office!

Her previous roles were those of the stripteaser in the movie, "Cry Havoc," and the musical play, "The Naked Genius." Before that she spent a long time entertaining the service men, going in to Army camps and such places as Newfoundland, Iceland, and bases in the North Atlantic.

The high point of her act consisted of a strip-tease. She wore a special dress, and would toss parts of it to the service men nearest her, but always it was arranged that the bits of the dress would be returned to her so she could give another show.

★ ★ ★

ONCE, HOWEVER, after giving a show in the North Atlantic, she discovered that the belt of the dress, an essential, was missing. Another ship was coming in, another show was to be put on, and she needed the belt. Over the loud speaker of these boats in the North Atlantic went the call: "Where the devil is Blondell's belt!" The blinkers signaled, from one ship to another, for her belt.

Finally, a stoker from one of the ships was put in a boat and rowed by himself to where he was to return the belt. The show then went on.

JOAN'S A NICE gal to meet. On the set she is plenty of fun.

She comes from an old vaudeville family. In fact, her father rushed through his act, shortening it 15 minutes, to rush home the night she was born. The event took place on 96th st. and Central Park West on August 30, 1909, at two minutes to 12.

She is 5 feet 4½ inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, has grayish blue eyes, which generally look as if she's being surprised, and her hair isn't so blonde as it appears.

She was awarded a divorce from Dick Powell yesterday.

She has two children, Norman age 9, and Ellen age 6. She has no servants, and with the aid of her mother and friends she does all the housework which includes preparing the meals, washing the dishes and cleaning the house.

NO LONGER IS IT MERELY "MAJOR" CHARLES MACARTHUR . . . Our Charlie, the humane newspaperman who wrote "The Front Page," the great newspaper farce, and maintained his sensibilities by still talking to guys who worked with him, is now "Lt. Col." MacArthur . . . Moreover, he was in the invasion . . . Rather he "went to the invasion" . . . Charlie came back from Normandy a day or two ago, bringing a rose for his wife, Helen Hayes—"a rose from Normandy" . . . (Note: Wherever quotations have appeared in the paragraph above, the "quotes" are direct, from Mrs. MacArthur . . .) Helen, this column's perennial nominee for America's First Actress, is coming to Boston in the Fall—in her play "Harriet."

The "big league ball club with a chance for the pennant" which has been bidding for Lefty Dreiserwerd of the Sacramento club is none other than the Boston Red Sox . . Dreiserwerd is the hottest pitcher in the Coast League in years . . . Sacramento spurned the Yawkey offer of $20,000 on the grounds that Sacramento is in the race for the pennant and didn't want to break faith with the fans . . Sacramento happens to be in last place . Nevertheless, Sacramento under Earl Sheehy, former Red Sox coach, is very much in the race . . . Only six games separate the leader from the trailer.

EXCLUSIVE: American news services are missing a bet in the situation at Honduras . . . After Vice President Wallace's Latin-American visit last year, a spurt in revolutionary activities set in . . . It took a little time to crystallize, according to insiders . . . But the three-days-ago kidnaping of President Lopez of Colombia is interpreted as one aftermath of the Vice-President's visit, and the impending trouble in Honduras is seen as another . . . Pan American Airways will not admit it (probably), but on July 5 of most recent date, all airplane service was suspended to Honduras and it has been very hit and miss in the matter of plane travel since.

Now "the Reds" and "the Liberals" are fighting it out for favoritism as Moscow's friend . . . Uncle Sam (smartly, they say) is sitting it out, looking on . . . When big news breaks in Honduras, the chances are that too little unbiased press representation will be on the grounds. (So don't believe all you hear or read).

It seems there is a recruiting drive afoot . . . if this particular quartet of the 29 WACs currently at large in Boston were recruiting males the quota would be filled—and how!

Goebbels Talk Seen Plea For Softer Allied Terms

By The Associated Press

An article by German Propaganda Minister Goebbels declaring Germany and her enemies both "want peace and calm" has been interpreted by the U. S. Office of War Information as "an implicit appeal to the United States and Britain to soften their demands for unconditional surrender."

The article appeared in this week's issue of the German magazine Das Reich. As broadcast in summary by the Berlin radio in the English language for consumption in the United States and Britain, the article appeared to be another form of Nazi propaganda against Bolshevism and a new attempt to drive a wedge between the British-American Allies and the Soviet Union.

[illegible] amplify the main [illegible]

In this account, recorded by the Associated Press, Goebbels was quoted directly as saying:

"All want peace and calm except Bolshevism, which wants continued unrest and chaos."

Meanwhile an Associated Press dispatch from Madrid said Das Schwarze Korps, organ of the Nazi SS, declared recently that "there is no use kidding ourselves. This phase of the war now beginning has grimmer meaning than all the phases that have gone before."

This article was headlined "It's Life or Death' and contained such statements as "There is no more mercy left in the world."

Women Campers Save Doe From Dogs

LEOMINSTER, July 15—A 100-pound doe today had its freedom after two women rowed to its rescue here in Spec pond and then stood guard until the animal, weary from fleeing a pack of dogs, had recovered its strength.

Seeing the doe floundering in the water, Mrs. Armand Richards and Mrs. Albert Cooke, two campers, rowed to the animal and towed it to the opposite shore. Then they borrowed a wheelbarrow and carried it into the woods.

Two Engagements

By BETTY ALDEN

HAPPINESS in the Long Island branch of the Roosevelt family, occasioned by the engagement of Nancy Roosevelt to Ensign William Eldred Jackson, USNR, which for some time had been planned for, official announcement today, is greatly overshadowed by news of the sudden death in France of Nancy's uncle, Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

JEANNE EDGERLEY FELLOWES plans September wedding.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Lt. Col. Archibald Roosevelt, now on combat duty in the Pacific. Her mother is the former Grace Lockwood of Boston, daughter of Mrs. Thomas St. John Lockwood of Bay State rd. and Topsfield. She is a granddaughter of the late President Teddy Roosevelt.

Ensign Jackson is the son of Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Robert H. Jackson of Washington. Following in his father's footsteps he has taken up a law career, graduated from Yale in '41 and from Harvard Law School. He belongs to the New York Bar, Phi Beta Kappa, Lincoln's Inn, Signet Society and was editor of the Harvard Law Review. At present he is stationed at the Navy Dept. in Washington.

Nancy graduated cum laude from Radcliffe in '43. She is a sister of Theodora Roosevelt, professional ballet dancer, Edith Roosevelt and Lt. Sun-Bathing Don'ts

Beauty

By IDA JEAN KAIN

UNLESS IT RAINS, July is sunburn month. On a hazy day, you get a slow burn; on a bright day, you get it directly. But for the duration, sunburn is a saboteur. It was estimated that last year we lost 200,000 working days because of sunburn. So, when you pack a picnic lunch and go to the beach or country to frolic in the sun, take a few precautions.

If this is your first exposure to the summer sun, don't try to get a tan all in one sitting. The ultra violet rays are strongest between 10 o'clock in the morning and 3 in the afternoon. Perhaps 15 minutes' sun will be all you can take during those hours. Naturally, if you already have a protective coat of tan, that is a different matter. I am not worrying about you.

But all of you beginners should watch out for redness in the skin. It means go in the shade! Just 10 minutes more after your skin begins to glow is enough to give you a severe burn. Another danger signal is when your skin feels hot to the touch.

Don't let the cloudy days fool you. They are the worst burners—you're not so apt to be on your guard. The rays that cause the burn come right through the vapor and on such days you can burn without browning.

SOME SAFETY RULES

Dr. Charles Pabst, the eminent dermatologist, gives these safety rules for sun-bathing:

Do not put perfume or toilet water on your skin just before you sit in the sun. This may give you a severe inflammation of the skin.

Do not go bareheaded in strong sunlight. Blondes and red-heads should be particularly careful because they are more sensitive.

Do not relax in strong sunlight after strenuous exercise.

Do not sit long in the sun when the body is wet after bathing.

Protect your eyes from the glare of sun and sand. Wear dark glasses and a hat with a brim.

DON'T SLEEP ON BEACH

Do not try to mix sun and alcoholic beverages.

If you have had sulfa drugs recently, avoid undue exposure to sun.

And DON'T sleep on the beach in the sun's direct rays.

If, in spite of it all, you do get burned, drink plenty of liquid. Don't gulp down a lot of cold water while you are hot. Sip it, or drink cool water. But get the liquid down.

JINX FALKENBURG certainly shows up this striped swim-suit to advantage . . . and has a beautiful golden tan to enhance it. We all want a healthy tan . . . but alas, too many will get painfully burned and blistered instead, if they don't heed Ida Kain's advice.

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Saturday, July 15, 1944

Active, mentally and physically. Willing to work hard but too often wish to change living location and position. You could reach great heights if you would stick to your occupation (if it is truly honorable and worthy of your intelligence), and have patience with slow-moving results. Variability not wise. Gifted with entertaining ability, probably a good mimic. Prayer, harmonious home life, optimism are needs. Curb jealousy of loved ones, control emotions. Birthdate Rembrandt, Dutch painter.

LUCKY NUMBER—4
LUCKY COLOR—Dark brown

Send 15 cents and large self-addressed stamped envelope to Frances Drake, Boston American. For additional horoscope readings, send 10 cents for each birthdate you wish to know and month you were born.

Courtesy Tip

"Always belittlin'" is a quick and sure route to unpopularity. Throw this tarnished and tarnishing habit out of your life . . . polish your eyes to look for the best in people, and polish your words to say pleasant and constructive things to and about people. Then you'll be happier . . . and "you'll be so nice to come home to"! —MRS. BEECKMAN

Some Molasses Dainties

By MARTHA LEE

WHENEVER we hear an auctioneer describe everything from a prize pig to a demi-tasse cup in such glowing terms, as every auctioneer always does, we wonder what he would do if he had food to sell.

Imagine how he could sing the praises of a perfect cake, a lusciously cooked steak, or even a bottle of molasses.

Molasses is as old as America, yet as modern as a helicopter. And in spite of its intrinsic value, you'll be amazed at how very inexpensive it is. A few cents buys either of two different varieties—a dark, full flavored molasses for gingerbreads, cookies, and other baking—a light, mild type to pour over griddle cakes and hot breads. Both will ring the bell in your family's favor.

MOLASSES CRUMB COOKIES

½ cup molasses	1-3 cup sugar
2 tbsp. water	1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla	½ tsp. baking powder
1 cup bread crumbs	½ tsp. baking soda
½ cup shortening	½ tsp. salt
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour	½ cup chopped nuts
	1 tsp. grated lemon rind

Pour molasses, water and vanilla over bread crumbs. Mix and let stand for 5 minutes. Cream shortening; add sugar and egg, mixing well. Sift together dry ingredients and add with crumb mixture to creamed mixture. Mix thoroughly. Add nuts and lemon rind. Drop batter by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Flatten cookies by stamping with bottom of glass which has been covered with a damp cloth. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) for about 10 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

MOLASSES BREAD PUDDING

½ cups stale bread crumbs	½ cup molasses
1 qt. milk, scalded	¼ cup melted butter or margarine
2 eggs	1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. salt	½ cup raisins

Pour scalded milk over bread cubes and let soak for 5 minutes. Beat eggs with salt and molasses. Stir in shortening and vanilla. Pour mixture over bread cubes and stir together with fork until well blended. Stir in raisins. Pour into greased baking dish. Set dish in pan containing hot water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for about 50 minutes or until firm. Serve with top milk or sauce. Makes 8 servings.

FRENCH TOAST

1 egg	¼ cup milk
⅛ tsp. salt	2 tbsp. molasses
4 slices of day-old bread

Beat the egg, add milk, salt and and molasses. Dip bread into mixture. Remove. Fry in a little hot fat until golden brown on both sides.

COLONIAL TOAST

½ cup butter or margarine
6 slices day-old bread
½ cup molasses
Cinnamon or allspice

Melt butter in large skillet. Dip bread in molasses. Saute over a low flame about one minute on each side. (Cook slowly to avoid burning.) Dust with cinnamon.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Friday—We all were saddened this morning to hear of the death of Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt. When he was young and went into the last war, his father told me that of all his sons Ted was the one to whom soldiering seemed to be the real fulfillment of an inner desire. As a civilian, I think Gen. Theodore Roosevelt has always felt that his greatest interest lay in military affairs.

It is a loss to our fighting forces for him to be taken at this time, and to his mother, his wife and his children it is a sad blow. And yet even they, I am sure, feel grateful that he was able to render this service to his country. I think he would prefer to leave this world in just such sudden fashion, having done a hard day's work, and knowing that the tide of victory was turning for the Allies.

It is interesting to note that in this family three members of the older generation who fought in the last war have taken full part in this war. Kermit Roosevelt died, also on duty, in Alaska, and Archie, when I was in Australia, had already been in heavy fighting in New Guinea, and his men had named a ridge after him.

The kind of fighting which is done today takes young men, but some older ones seem to take a pretty active part in it, and the Roosevelt family as a whole has never been backward when adventure called or when patriotism led them to danger zones.

* * *

THERE is a broadcast reported in this morning's paper as having been heard in London from Germany. It is a broadcast which breathes terror in every line, and there occurs in it a threat to destroy Europe before the Nazis give in. Many scientists will doubtless say that science has reached a point where either side might find some way to completely destroy the whole world. But the trouble with that kind of destruction is that it not only destroys the enemy, it destroys the world, and there are few who want to face the annihilation of their entire race. Even the satisfaction of annihilating all their enemies is not a sufficient satisfaction.

Therefore, it seems to me that in making this threat the Germans are simply whistling in the dark.

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

KISS THE BRIDE? At a home wedding bridegroom kisses the bride immediately after the ceremony. This is not done at a church wedding, however. The practice of all guests kissing the bride is no longer followed. Only family and very intimate friends now avail themselves of this "privilege."

Griffith, who had just spent his leave in speaking engagements throughout New Hampshire, was en route back to his base at Sampson, N. Y., when he was contacted at the Buddies' Club on Boston Common and notified his leave had been extended.

He served in the Army from 1935 to 1939. His children range from 4 to 10 years.

JVA Members Sought for Harvesting

Harvesting of vegetables and fruits will give all boys and girls of the Junior Victory Army who are on the "waiting list", the opportunity to do farm work later in the season.

This is the statement of Llewellyn L. Derby, extension editor, emergency farm labor at Mass. State College, Amherst.

Thanks to radio and press publicity, including a campaign in this newspaper to recruit JVA members for summer farm work, the farm labor situation in Massachusetts "is pretty well in hand," Derby writes.

"In some sections," he adds, "we have boys and girls waiting to take jobs."

These will not be disappointed, he explained, as autumn gathering of vegetables and fruit will require additional volunteers. To obtain these jobs, all boys and girls, not already registered, should list their names with the farm labor representative of their respective counties.

The farm labor representative in Suffolk (Boston) County is John B. Casey, headmaster, Jamaica Plain High School.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insign a pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well-wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

Pep Risks $500,000 By Fighting Ortiz

By JACK CONWAY

NEW YORK, July 15—Willie Pep will be risking $500,000 in ring prestige when he clashes with Manuel Ortiz in a ten-round bout for Eddie Mack's Callahan A. C. show in Boston on Monday night, according to Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Club.

"I figure that with 74 wins out of 75 starts that Pep is a half million dollar fistic gem," said Jacobs. "I have some matches in mind for him that will get him $100,000.

Mike Jacobs

"These bouts will go out the window in the event Ortiz wins from Pep. From all I have heard, Ortiz is a great puncher and better than an average boxer. He must be pretty good to have won eight title bouts in a year. He, at least, does not believe in keeping his companionship in a safe.

"I have drawn some big gates with Pep. The champ and Chalky Wright did $72,000 in the Garden. Gates of $50,000 were common when Pep was in action.

★ ★ ★

Mack Has Option

"IF ORTIZ wins from Pep, I would like to have the two rivals meet in New York, but I understood that Eddie Mack has the option on such a bout. The bout would draw more in New York than in Boston. Mack must have done some pretty fast talking to have gotten the inside track on a title bout. For the match to be red hot Ortiz must win Monday night.

"He has a big incentive to go in there and toss punches. Ortiz will lose if he stands off and tries to box Pep. Willie is too fast for him. For the Mexican to leave the ring a winner he must take chances, cut loose with both hands and rely upon his punch to win."

Mike asked me what the price scale for the bout was, and I told him Braves Field was set up from $1.25 to $6.

"That is a lot of fighting for that kind of money," said Mike. "In New York, the battle of champions would have called for a $16.50 top. I am glad Boston has got such a good match as it will help the boxing game in New England.

"Tommy Farmer, manager of Ortiz, is a friend of Eddie Mack's, and you must give him credit for going all out for his old pal."

★ ★ ★

AL BUCK, Hype Igoe, Ed Van Every and a dozen more New York sports writers will make the trip to Boston to see Ortiz and Pep in action.

Pep is a favorite with the New York writers on account of his long list of winning bouts here. They figure he will win, but they realize that a puncher like Ortiz can always change the tide of battle with a single blow.

Before leaving Boston I met Bobby Goldman who used to manage Al Mello.

"I don't rate Pep with great featherweight champions like Tony Canzoneri and Johnny Kilbane," said Goldman. "Pep is a fine boxer and has speed, but he isn't much of a puncher. I would also like to see how he takes a punch. Ortiz can hit, and he has a chance to tip Pep over if he can score with heavy smashes to the jaw. Always remember that a puncher can win with one well directed blow. I think Pep will gain the decision, but Ortiz' wallop may upset my prediction as well as Pep."

★ ★ ★

Eager to See Ortiz

NEW YORK fans want Mike Jacobs to bring Ortiz here. They are anxious to see the colorful little Mexican in action. If Ortiz wins from Pep, one may be sure that Jacobs will do everything possible to secure the services of the Mexican.

It is Ortiz' hope to win the featherweight and lightweight crowns. As he is already bantamweight champion, he would then be a triple titleholder.

Ortiz will have to vacate his bantamweight title as he no longer can make the class weight of 118 pounds. He fights best around 126 pounds which is the notch for the featherweight champion. Ortiz must be at 127 pounds for Pep as the latter does not wish to have his featherweight crown at stake. If Pep is knocked out, he wishes to salvage his title which would give him at least one more crack at the big money.

Tribe Meets Dodgers

By BILL GRIMES

After an absence of three weeks, during which they slipped quietly into the cellar, the Braves are back home for a long stay, and opened a three-game-in-two-days series with the Dodgers this afternoon at the Wigwam. There's still hope for the Braves, despite the fact that they are in last place. According to reports, the Colemen played bad baseball during their last road trip. They started to crack up on their final appearance at Braves Field when they dropped a twin bill to the New York Giants, but they managed to pull themselves together over in the Polo Grounds and grab the odd game from the Ottmen.

WILLIE PEP GATHERS MORE PEP—As he steps under the shower at the conclusion of his workout yesterday at the Kelley & Hayes Gym. Willie is right on edge for his battle with Manuel Ortiz on Monday night at Braves Field.

After leaving New York, the Braves stopped off at the Sampson Naval Station and handed the Sailors their first and only defeat of the season. But, then, they went into a spin and when they flattened out and headed for home, they had only three victories to show for their efforts.

On the road, the Braves booted away many games. And, then, when the defense was normal, they got poor pitching. When a club dovetails faulty defensive playing with mediocre pitching as the Braves did in the West, there's only one answer, a bad trip.

STILL SOME HOPE

However, the Braves still have a chance to move up in the National League standings. The Phillies, Dodgers, Cubs and Braves are well bunched and a winning streak during this long home stay (Aug. 1) would move the Colemen right back into the thickest of the fighting.

Nate Andrews and Ed Head were opposing pitchers this afternoon. Andrews has hurled excellent ball this season and with a few breaks would be right up there with the leading pitchers. Right now, Andrews ranks with Jim Tobin as Bob Coleman's most reliable hurler.

Manager Leo Durocher is not in an amiable mood. The Dodgers experienced the worst road trip in years since they left the Banks of the Gowanus three weeks ago. They couldn't buy a win. And, other than rant and tear what hair he has, there was nothing Leo the Lip could do about it.

Since the Braves last appeared at home, Connie Ryan has blossomed into a National League star by virtue of his stellar playing in the All-Ctar game in Pittsburgh.

RYAN OUTSTANDING

Ryan's work at second base and with the willow in the Smoky City last Tuesday night took some of the sting out of the Braves' poor showing in the West.

The colorful Dodgers are always a drawing card here, whether they are setting the pace or battling to keep out of the cellar. So, there was a fair size gathering of die-hard fans and of course, being Ladies' Day, the girls were out in large numbers.

The Braves and Dodgers will engage in a doubleheader starting at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. And, next Wednesday, Charlie Grimm and his Chicago Cubs will be the guests of the Braves for three days, to be followed by the St. Louis Cardinals, Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Finney Slugs, Other Sox Skid

By JOE CASHMAN

NEW YORK, July 15—Pete Fox is the American League's leading hitter. Just a point behind him, in second place, is Bobby Doerr. And right up close is Bob Johnson. Yet the leading Red Sox sticker to date in the series with the New York Yankees is Lou Finney.

Finney, in fact, has made more hits in two games than have Fox, Doerr and Johnson in three tilts against the Bombers.

Returning to first base after Manager Joe Cronin had played the sack in the first game of Thursday's twin bill, Lou smashed out three safeties and was robbed of another by the official scorer. Yesterday he came back to rap out two singles and a double as the Hose, committing a flock of defensive sins back of "Tex" Hughson, were turned back 4-3 by "Hank" Borowy.

OTHER SOX WEAK

If any other Sox had come close to matching the Finney stick pace, the Croninmen would be three games up instead of one game down in the engagement as of today.

Doerr, entering the series as the league's top hitter, has connected for only a single in 11 tries, despite hitting the ball very hard and far. Fox has made four hits in 13 attempts and Johnson three in ten efforts. Finney hadn't hit the size of his cap before coming here. He had gone hitless in his last 14 times at bat at the Fens and had made only five hits in all while playing seven complete games and finishing up three other contests.

The customers were beginning to fear that the 34-year-old Alabaman had lost the touch as a result of staying out of baseball to work on his farm all of last season and up to late June this year.

FINNEY A REAL WOW

Lou's hitting over here, however, has done much to dispel that fear. In view of his stick surge in the Stadium, it appears that his weak hitting in previous games was due largely to lack of practice.

Lou, naturally, is very happy over his hitting in the last two games, but it so happens that he'd like to forget yesterday. For all his safeties were wasted and he made an error which permitted a Yankee run to register.

That miscue was one of four charged to the Hose as they fumbled themselves into a defeat which dropped them down below the Yanks into third place.

Skeeter Newsome and Bob Johnson were guilty of boots that enabled the Yanks to put over an unearned run in the first frame, after Finney had opened the top half with a two-bagger only to be eventually doubled at the plate on a Fox fly to right.

The Finney miscue came in the second stanza as the Bombers put over two more tallies. Fluke singles by Hemsley and Milosevich and a trick double by Borowy spelled one marker. Then Lou fumbled a Metheny roller with two away to let in the other.

Hughson yielded a legitimate tally in the third as Lindell doubled and Hemsley singled. Thereafter, until lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh, "Tex" didn't give a bingle.

The Sox collected nine blows off Borowy but had no luck in bunching them.

Johnson rapped out his tenth homer for our first run in the fourth. A lost-in-the-sun single by Newsome and pinch double by Joe Bowman, swinging for Hughson, accounted for the second marker.

McBride tripled in the ninth inning and came home on an infield out, leaving the Sox one run shy, Borowy in possession of his 12the victory. Hughson owning his fourth defeat and the Yanks occupying second place.

Clare Lamore Tops AAU Swim Entries

Clare Lamore, Olneyville, R. I., New England's outstanding girl swimmer, was to make her first assault on the outdoor titles this afternoon when she took her place with the starters in the 100-yard backstroke race at the Tufts Square Pool, Medford, in the NEAAU championship swimming meet.

This affair was sponsored by the Medford Youth Commission with Mayor Walter E. Lawrence acting as honorary chairman and was under the auspices of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser.

Miss Lamore, winner of all New England titles up for auction this past winter, headed a team of nine swimmers from the Providence club. Her swim-mates were Louise Sherlock, Anna Franklin and Barbara Milliken in the junior individual medley race and 100-yard freestyle; Harold Mirroff and Harold Anderson in the 100-yard breast-stroke and Joe Baclawski and Joe Turnone in the 100-meter freestyle event.

Bunker Hill Boys' Club, the newly organized Winchester Swimming Club, South Boston Club, Newton YMCA and the Metropolitan Swimming Club were also represented.

The American Red Cross was to contribute its instructive share to the program. There were to be demonstrations in life-saving, the correct way to abandon ship, transportation of an injured person in water, and other varied tricks of swimming as taught to servicemen at home and overseas.

Andersson Beats Hagg in 1500

STOCKHOLM, July 15 (AP)—Arne Andersson yesterday beat his countryman, Gunder Hagg, for the second time this season. Competing in the 1500-meters at the Stockholm stadium Andersson won in the comparatively slow time of 3:48.4. Only a week ago at Gothenburg Hagg set a world record for the distance of 3:43.

"Remember 1914?---"—Connie Mack, left, and Johnny Evers turn memory's pages back 30 years to the time when Mack's favored Athletics were kayoed in four straight by the Braves in the World Series. Evers was a big cog in Braves of that year who went from cellar in July to pennant. Johnny, paralyzed for two years past, watched A's play exhibition with Senators at Albany, and was delighted to meet Connie and get the old-time baseball thrill once again.
